"Countering the Conspiracy to Destroy Black Boys"

by Dr. Jawanza Kunjufu, Ph.D.

I was really excited to read this book. The book is written in a way that lets you know how important education is for children is to him. I really liked the way that he stresses the point that you do not have to take all of the recommendations the school may make for your child. You have the right and option to make decisions for your child that are in the best interest of the child. His research is very thorough and he inspires you to find the answers for your children. He especially addresses issues related to Black male children in the public school system. I highly recommend this book and any others written by Dr. Kunjufu.

Dr. Kunjufu has been an Educational Consultant for many school districts in the Chicago, Illinois area as well as the Atlanta City Schools. He is also an adoptive parent.
